To determine this, we asked respondents to report on their relationship with their father and mother and then asked about their relationships with siblings and with other relatives. We did this because it is not generally assumed that a father and mother living together can also be a good example for their children. In the context of the entire family, parents are known to be the most important people for their children. We will get to this, but I am going to talk about the first study and the second study first. With our study and related discussions on 82157476af
